

HUESTON ANSWERS PETITION OF BANK

Another Addition to Litigation
Growing Out of Harrison-
Malone Case.

An added chapter in the litigation arising from the alleged embezzlement of $2,000 by Sidney B. Harrison and Elise E. Malone from the N. L. Carpenter brokerage firm was brought into the case today when Walter Hueston, of Chicago, filed an answer to the intervention petition filed by the National City Bank of Chicago.

The bank sought to intervene in an attachment suit for by the Harrison firm to tie up property of Harrison and Malone claiming $5,000 so levied on represented drafts sent to Harrison or Hueston and cashed by the latter at Chicago. Hueston in answer today admits that he sent the money to Harrison as represented by the bank. No action has been taken by the Carpenter firm toward filing civil action to recover the alleged stolen stocks from present owners. Neither have the police any clue as to the present whereabouts of the two missing brokerage clerks.

HEARING ON THAW'S BAIL IS ADJOURNED

Commission Wires W. T. Jerome
It Will Be Pleased to Get Facts, Not Opinions.

CONCORD, N. H., Jan. 7.—The public hearing to determine whether Harry K. Thaw shall be admitted to bail adjourned shortly before noon today without decision. The State of New York called no witnesses.

The Thaw commission wired William T. Jerome, special deputy attorney general for New York, that it desires co-operation of all parties concerned in collection of evidence. The telegram read:

"If you feel that you have material facts, but not opinions, bearing on Thaw's mental condition, we shall be pleased to have you submit them to the commission Friday at 11 o'clock."

Answering a question put by Gen. Frank S. Streeter, chairman of the commission, Sheriff H. A. Drew and Special Officer John B. Stevens, the only witnesses called, declared they had never heard Thaw speak of his wife Evelyn Nesbit Thaw in a detrimental manner. Harry K. Thaw and his mother sat in the court room while their attorneys called the officers as witnesses and heard them testify that they had never known the prisoner to show signs of irritation or any mental traits indicating that he is dangerous.

The hearing today was very brief. Mr. Thaw, who was unable to appear today, had previously attended a private session of the commission at Streeter's home tomorrow. If Mr. Streeter and his committee's telegram by presenting evidence, the hearing Friday will also be a private one.

Veterans to Install New Officers Tonight

A public installation of officers of Gen. M. Emmet Urell, No. 2, United Spanish War Veterans, and of the officers of Gen. M. Emmet Urell, No. 6, United Spanish War Veterans, will be held at the camp hall, Eleventh and E streets northwest, tonight at 8 o'clock. Commanding-in-Chief John Lewis Smith and staff and Department Commander J. A. Costello and staff will probably appear. Immediately after the installation an entertainment will be given under the direction of a committee from both the camp and the auxiliary.

rency system through Persian women's influence.

"In bidding you welcome to Washington," said Mr. Newman, "I have no keys to the city to give you, for we have no keys to the city of Washington. Whether you live here or not, it is your city."

"In speaking of the rising influence of women, I will say that I have never known of a petition presented by a body of women to any executive or legislative body that was not morally right."

"I hope you success in your convention," said Mrs. Cullip, read a telegram of greeting from Mrs. Woodrow Wilson at Pass Christian, Miss. Messages were also read from Secretary of War Garrison and Secretary of the Navy Daniels.

"More power to your elbow" was Mr. Daniels' characteristic greeting. A number of society girls acted as pages for the convention. They were Lucille and Harriet Clark, Dorothy Denham, Helena Griffin, Agna Bennett, Alice Theobald, Nell Rosa Baggett, Lucille Rose, Italy Carter, Fannie Casanova, Wilson, Margaret Trimble, Nellie Craig, Misses Chapman, Mattie Behrendt, Helen Hopkins, May Little, Virginia Cox, Dorothy Shuey, Carlotta Quirollo, Helen Hardy, Sallie Williams, Nancy Johnson, Miss Sims, Ethel Lloyd, Helen Hovley and Jessie Brown.

All during the morning there were rumors of opposition to the candidacy of Mrs. William A. Cullip, for the presidency of the league. The name of Mrs. J. Charles May Little, wife of the Congressman from Maryland, was one of the women named, but her candidacy is denied by members of the present administration.

TRUST PROBLEMS TO BE HEARD SOON

Newlands Announces Meeting of Senate Committee Will Be Held Next Week.

Consideration of the trust question will take on life in the Senate soon after the holiday recess. It was announced today that the Senate Interstate Commerce Committee, of which Senator Newlands is chairman, will meet a week from Friday.

At that meeting the amendment of the trust statutes will be opened up. While no bill can be expected for some time, the meeting is expected to mark the beginning of active work.

A dozen bills are before the committee. Half are for the amendment of the Sherman law. Some embody the trade commission idea. Senator Newlands favors the trade commission plan, and it is not unlikely that such a plan may be introduced.

The President will map out a general policy, and the Senate lawyers will work out details. The Administration and the Democratic leaders in the House and Senate are going to take the firm of J. P. Morgan & Co. at its word with reference to the good faith of its policy in getting away from interlocking directorates.

Democratic leaders in Congress will co-operate with big business in effecting such reforms as are believed essential rather than to go at big business hammer and tongs.

The statement that the policy of co-operation rather than a policy of war is to be followed emanates from high authority today and there can be no doubt that it represents the wishes of the President and of the Democratic leaders.

The fact Morgan & Co. and some other big houses are showing a disposition to rid themselves of some of their directorships is looked on here as evidence that the system of interlocking directorates, whereby colossal combinations are fashioned, can be disentangled with the help of big business itself and without any serious shock to commercial and industrial affairs in this country.

The Sherman law is to stand and such supplemental legislation as is demanded will be for the purpose of clarifying and defining how far a corporation can go.

M'ADOO ASKS FUND TO FIGHT PELLAGRA

Urges Congress, Through Clark, to Make Emergency Appropriation for Laboratory.

The immediate establishment of an experimental hospital and laboratory of the Public Health Service, probably at Savannah, Ga., for the study of pellagra was urged upon Congress today by Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo in a letter to Speaker Clark. McAdoo asked for an emergency appropriation of $45,000.

"This disease has increased at an alarming rate in the United States since 1907, until now it has become a national menace," said Mr. McAdoo in his letter. "There is grave suspicion that the disease is associated with diet. The need for this hospital is to meet an emergency, as the disease will recur in the early spring in increasing virulence."

SPEAKERS AGAINST RACE SEGREGATION

Vigorously attacking the attitude of the Democratic Administration toward the colored race, and asserting that some leaders had "risen to eminence on the back of the negro, defaming and oppressing him as they went," Oswald Garrison Villard, of New York, discouraged race prejudice in an address on Tuesday night in the Metropolitan A. M. E. Church. The meeting—as in honor of the 100th birthday anniversary of Charles Sumner, of Massachusetts, and was held under the auspices of the Washington branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. The other speakers were Judge Wendell P. Stafford, Senator Clapp, and the Rev. L. N. Ross.

In prefacing his remarks, Mr. Villard dissented from the views expressed by the Rev. L. N. Ross, pastor of the church, who urged less dancing and more military education for the colored people. Mr. Villard said that nothing was gained by strife. Mr. Ross retorted that the colored race was legislated against, vilified by the press, persecuted by mob violence, segregation, and crowding, and needed to take some definite step as a matter of self-preservation.

Villard, in criticizing the present Administration, declared that the position "in which the Democratic party stands today, with its President preaching a 'new freedom' and a number of reactionary Senators, Congressmen and Cabinet officers urging a 'new slavery,' is indeed extraordinary."

"There are no bosses today like them," he continued. "The Yermans, Tillmans, Hoke Smith and all the rest of the negro-baiting crowd who have risen to eminence on the back of the negro, defaming and oppressing him as they went, are the apostles of reaction. But I have another indictment against them. They represent the heart and conscience of the true South."

Senator Clapp praised the colored race for the wonderful advancement it has made since the abolition of slavery, and cited many instances of colored men holding positions of trust under the Government.

Judge Stafford confirmed his remarks to the matter of segregation, saying in substance that it was unconstitutional, unjust and ungodly.

The meeting passed a resolution of address to the public in which segregation was condemned, and the attitude of the Democratic Administration with reference to the colored race was criticized.

The Changing Age

Girls and boys from 14 to 19 years of age undergo physical changes which tax their strength to the utmost and the strain is always apparent from pale cheeks, colorless lips, and tired bodies—sometimes eruptions of the skin and the utter lack of the ambition and animation with which their younger years were filled.

Budding into womanhood and manhood, with the duties of school or business, demands concentrated nourishment which is readily convertible into red blood corpuscles, energy and strength, and the very best thing for this changing age is the medical nutrient in Scott's Emulsion—it possesses the rare blood-making properties of cod liver oil in a perfected form; hypophosphites for the nervous system, with the healing, soothing qualities of pure glycerine.

Its nourishing force promotes assimilation, yields direct results in abundant, red blood, fills hollow cheeks, tones the nerves, makes all good food do good, and does it in a natural easy manner. The sustaining nourishment in Scott's Emulsion is so helpful to this changing age that it should never be neglected—every druggist has it.

MOB SEEKS WORK AT FORD FACTORY

Police Order Firm Not to Give
Out Jobs Until the Unrest
Has Ceased.

DETROIT, Mich., Jan. 7.—Drawn here by the announcement of the $10,000,000 profit-sharing plan of the Ford Motor Company, thousands of unemployed persons from cities throughout the Middle West began arriving in Detroit today, all eager to wield a broom in the Ford plant at a minimum salary of $5 for an eight-hour day.

The outsiders joined the army of surging thousands that again today camped in front of the Ford Company's gates in Highland Park, a suburb, and shared their disappointment when company officials ordered the "No Work Today" sign displayed.

Fearing that if any jobs were given out the unsuccessful seekers for work would crush through the factory doors and real rioting result, the police advised the Ford officials to withhold all jobs for at least a week, until the general unrest in local labor circles has quieted to some extent.

The offices of the company today were almost swamped under a flood of messages from all sections of the world, congratulating Henry Ford, head of the concern, upon the inauguration of the most gigantic profit-sharing scheme ever attempted. Many great factory heads wired requests for detailed information relative to the working of the plan.

Local bankers estimated today that the United States Government would lose $500,000 this year in income tax as a result of the transfer of $10,000,000 from dividends to wages.

Miss Parraut Missing.

The police have failed to locate Miss Myrtle M. Parraut, twenty-seven years old, who has been missing since December 20 from her home, 821 G street southwest. The police were told the woman was in Baltimore last week.

Aged Man Is Badly Hurt by Street Car

With two fractured ribs, lacerations of the scalp and a broken arm, Edward S. Corcoran, seventy years old, a carpenter, of 196 Seventh street northwest, is in a serious condition in Emergency Hospital. Because of his advanced years the doctors fear he may not recover.

The aged man was injured by being struck by a car at Eighth and K streets northwest Tuesday night. He was dragged half a square before the car was stopped, the police say.

Corcoran had started to cross the street back of one car when he was struck by one coming in the opposite direction. He was caught by the fender, which saved him from going under the wheels.

POSLAM HEALS THE SKIN WITH SPEED AND EASE

Sylvester May Name Colored Detective

Major Sylvester has under consideration a plan to detail one of the colored members of the police force to the detective bureau for plain clothes work. He has been going over the records of the colored policemen, and if it is decided to bring a colored man into the central office, it is understood, H. H. Beckley, of the Second precinct, will be selected. There has been no colored man attached to the central office—since Detective Henry Lacy resigned several years ago.
